

What's New!

for the week of August 24, 2009

Wednesday, August 26th is a PL sew day at Sew Unique in Mt. Shasta and I will be stopping by on my way to Yuba City. Friday, August 28th is a PL sew day at the Running Y and with the Chiloquilters in Chiloquin—sorry I can't make either of these because I will be welcoming a new granddaughter on that day.

The delivery to Camp Evergreen was a great success. We've decided to take only large blankets next year regardless of the age of the child—makes it much easier for distribution. So ladies, we will appreciate your help in making more blankets in the larger size - width-of-fabric by 2 yards

Please be sure to check out the "Letters" page. This little guy is six months old and has a rare form of cancer. It's so great when we get to hear from a recipient and even better when we get to see a picture. Kudos to Lynda Colahan for making the blanket.

The new calendar will posted next week. One change will be Tater Patch will be hosting us on the first Monday, beginning in October.

Wind several bobbins before going to a class or Make a Blanket Day. You may want to consider purchasing pre-wound bobbins. This saves a lot of time and you don't need to continually thread and re-thread your machine when you run out of bobbin thread. I purchase my pre-wound bobbins at <http://www.superiorthreads.com/> They last much longer than the bobbins I wind myself, the thread is of excellent quality and I think they're worth the price.
