

What's New!

for the week of September 14, 2009

Tuesday is a sew day at Goose Tracks in Lakeview. These ladies contribute blankets every month and hopefully they will make the trip over to the Quilt Show and/or to Make a Difference Day.

We will be sewing at Heart of the Basin Quilt Show, September 19 and 20 at the Klamath County Fairgrounds. There will be extra "Bucks" for coming to sew and if you can't stay to sew, stop by and let me know you attended the quilt show and you will receive "Bucks". We will be setting up our area on Friday afternoon at 4pm if you can help—more "Bucks". Lunch will be served at the Quilt show on both days and there will be homemade pies available from the Catholic Daughters at Sacred Heart.

Make a Difference Day is fast approaching and if you haven't RSVP'd yet, please do so no later than September 30th. Please contact me if you need additional information or check out the newsletter listed above.

Congratulations to Susan Kramer for winning Best of Show at the Tulelake Fair. Susan has donated many blankets to Project Linus and won 1st place in our first Make a Blanket Day Challenge.

The deadline to turn in blankets for the Snowball Express is September 30th. They would prefer patriotic, but will accept whatever we send. These blankets are going to children of deceased and disabled Veterans.

Stray threads: Keep a piece of flannel or a small square of leftover fleece by your machine. When you snip the threads, put them on the flannel. They will stick to the flannel and not fly all over.
