

What's New!

for the week of May 24th 2010

Friday is a sew day at the Running Y and at Two Rivers Art Gallery in Chiloquin.

Here is another reason why we do what we do:

I'm not sure who made this blanket, but they made a little girl very happy.

As we begin preparations for the beginning of summer (somewhere) and Memorial Day, I wish you all a very safe and fun holiday weekend. Please take time to remember those we have lost personally and the Veterans who lost their lives protecting our freedom. My thoughts and prayers go to our Blanketeers who have lost loved ones this year.
