

What's New!

for the week of July 5th 2010

Sew Days This Week: July 7th—Shadow Mt. Mobile Home Park in Mt. Shasta beginning at 10:00 am.

July 9th—Fountain Plaza in Medford beginning at 10:00 am.

Nine-Patch Project: Do you have 34 blocks completed and working on number 35? Joani Helms has completed all of her 92 blocks. Please let me know as you complete them so I can have your prizes assembled. There will be special prizes for those who have 92 blocks completed on August 31, 2010.

Elm Creek Quilters: Have you started your blocks for the Elm Creek Quilters? Here is more information for you: <http://elmcreek.net/index.php/main/news/sarahs-twins-cast-your-vote/> I encourage you to make additional blocks for our chapter and we will have a get-together to assemble them.

Camp Evergreen: Here is the message I received from Marcia Hale, director of Camp Evergreen: I am heavily into the planning stages for Camp Evergreen 2010, which will be Aug 18-22 at Box R Ranch. Are the project Linus Ladies interested in participating again? I anticipate approx. 50 campers again, about 2/3 of whom will be first-timers. Your gifts of quilts and bath kits were SO appreciated last year. Please let me know if and how you would like to be involved this year. Of course I told her we were on board so now is the time to make this happen. The quilts for these campers should be width-of-fabric wide by 2 yards long. The children range in age from 8 to 18 and have lost a loved one recently. I will invite four people to ride with me to the Box R Ranch when we distribute these. If you are interested in going, please let me know.
